

*Alchemist unveils
the cast of the Olympians movie!*

CASTING

Here's a brief list of what we know "The Olympians" movie won't have: long, over dramatic scenes on shores and crying. What it will be? A space odyssey, the first based on our legion of superheroes. Now, they've been adapted in film before... the real world soldiers starring in a Saturday morning segment for kids in the 70s. Yet it's this second generation's first debut on the silver screen. With the dynamic duo of Robert Zemeckis and Bob Gale (Back to the Future) chosen to direct and pen and direct the script last March, the film is already a guaranteed success. But who would star in such an adventure? Several rumors have been spread the last few months, detailing the film's surely star-studded cast.

HALLIE BERRY- ATHENA

That's right! In the film's leading role, we have Hallie Berry (The Flintstones). She has the same charismatic and confident attitude of our hero. But is she fit to play a hero?

PRINCE- ORION LIGHTRAY

A popular fancast, Prince has been an outspoken part of "The Olympians"'s development, even writing a script in 1986 that never found a director. Rumors are currently circulating that he will also compose an original score for the film.

TIM ROTH- SWORDSman

In the role of the Swordsman, Tim Roth (Pulp Fiction) has been cast. Will he be able to imitate the Swordsman iconic accent? Will this film feature the 1992 incident that stole the Swordsman life?

LEONARDO DICAPRIO- GOLDWING

This one's just perfect. Playing Goldwing, the Arcangel, winged bad boy that vanished is Leonardo DiCaprio, the notorious teen hearthrob. This casting is sure to make the ladies swoon.

STACEY DASH- MOONSHINE

Stacey Dash (Clueless) lands her biggest role yet as everyone's favorite archer, Moonshine! Talk about perfect casting, right?

VOID- samuel L. JACKSON

If I was Walter Thurgood (The Void), I wouldn't be sure how to feel. 30 years old at the time this film was set in, and played by a 48 year old actor. Personally, I'd be offended. But then again... with Samuel L Jackson in the role, I'd probably consider myself quite lucky.

NICHOLAS CAGE- THE GUN

Playing THE GUN, is Nicholas Cage. That's right, they gave Nicholas Cage a gun.

Playing the film's two antagonists, Jeremy Northam (Wuthering Heights) and Jack Nicholson (The Shining.) Though their roles are unconfirmed, Northam is rumored to be playing anti-hero radical, the Shameless. While, despite not yet being confirmed, Nicholson is a clear contender for Athena's arch-nemesis, the Mummy.

There are also rumors that both Zeus and Posiedon will make appearances in the film.

Next month, the Alechemist will be having an interview with the film's producer, Brutus Martinez. If you'd like to stay in the know, we reccomend tuning into our morning show at 8:00, where until the film's release we'll be keeping you all in the know of the film's development.
